Dear Parents and Guardians,

I hope this message finds you well. Tonight, I was made aware of a concerning report involving one of the Approved Private Special Education Program (APSEP) schools, which was featured on NBC News. In light of this news, I wanted to reach out to you directly to reassure you that your child's needs are always our top priority at the Intensive Education Academy (IEA).

As we continue to uphold our commitment to excellence in education, we want to emphasize our dedication to accountability and support for our students' success at the Intensive Education Academy (IEA). Your trust in our school is paramount, and we want to assure you that we take our responsibilities seriously.

At IEA, we hold ourselves accountable for our students' success by actively collaborating with parents, districts, and our staff to address academic, behavioral, and emotional needs. Through open communication and teamwork, we strive to create a supportive and enriching environment where every student can thrive.

Our Admissions Office plays a crucial role in this process, diligently evaluating prospective students to ensure that their needs can be met at IEA. By carefully considering each student's unique strengths, challenges, and learning styles, we aim to create a community where every individual can reach their full potential.

Furthermore, we are committed to maintaining compliance with the highest standards of educational excellence. That is why we work closely with the Connecticut State Department of Education (CSDE) in an accreditation process to ensure that our school meets or exceeds all regulatory requirements. This accreditation process serves as a testament to our ongoing dedication to providing an enriching and supportive educational journey for our students.

At IEA, we believe that every child deserves access to a high-quality education that meets their individual needs. By holding ourselves accountable and working collaboratively with all stakeholders, we are confident that we can provide the support and resources necessary for our students to succeed.

If you have any questions or concerns about our accountability measures or our commitment to student success, please do not hesitate to reach out. We value your partnership and are here to support you and your child every step of the way.

Thank you for entrusting us with your child's education.
